MISCELLANY.

BATH.

The following account of this place of fashionable resort, is extracted from a Letter in the Centinal of Liberty of the 13th inst.

The situation is in a small valley, which extends nearly from S. to N. and is not more than three or four hundred yards wide. The distance from Alexandria, the Federal City, and George-Town is about 100 miles. The springs issue from the foot of the hill or mountain on the west, which is pretty high and steep—they form so considerable a stream as to turn a mill within a few rods. The weter is perhaps something below the temperature of new milk.—At first it is not generally relished as drink, but in a few days it is taken in quantities almost incredible. Every person repairs to the spring, where two boys are stationed and hand tumblers of water with much expertness. There is a house with five convenient baths, which are filled from the spring by means of trunks. The water is easily let out, and thus fresh water is furnished to each company, or each individual.

The number of persons who frequent this place is ascertained, from a book in which each person's name is inserted upon arrival there, and one dollar is contributed and applied to keeping the Baths, &c. in repair, and ornamenting the adjacent ground with walks and trees. The principal spring is beneath the shade of two spreading oaks—Seats are provided and you see them occupied by groups of ladies and gentlemen, through most of the day when the weather is favourable. During the Summer, from two to 7 or 800 persons visit Bath—they fell short of 300 when I was there—but more were expected—they come from the tide waters of the Chesapeake, where intermittent fevers prevail, from Alexandria, Georgetown, Baltimore, Philadelphia, &c.—Persons with Rheumatic and Bilious complaints usually get relief if they live temperately. The surrounding country is rough and barren, with some fruitful spots interspersed, the salubrity of the air in the neighbourhood of the mountains, makes a few weeks residence here, beneficial to most persons in ill health.

The accommodations are as good as could be expected where many persons are crouded into a small village, of from 15 to 20 houses. There are 4 or 5 good boarding houses—the price at present 5 dollars a week, some families take houses and provide for themselves. The mornings and evenings are cool at Bath, as the situation would lead you to conclude—It is excessively warm in the middle of the day, when the rays of the meridian sun fall directly upon the spot.

It is not invalids alone who frequent this place; upon returning from Bath it is often enquired "who was the Belle this season?" Hymenial treaties have often their preliminaries settled, or, at least, negociations are commenced. They have balls pretty frequently, and parties occasionally dine at Hancock, a village on the banks of the Maryland side of the Potomac, not two miles distant from the Pennsylvania line.

The very rational amusement of gambling, may here be enjoyed in all its delightful variety—Persons have often the exquisite satisfaction after passing two or three sleepless nights to find themselves disburthened of 6, 8, 10 or 1200 dollars according to a man's purse and resolution. The loosers at times raise the cry of cheats, sharpers, &c. There are to be sure no laws even in the Common-wealth of Virginia that compel a man to risque his money in this way, but the laws of custom, and the inebriating charms of play, bind, seduce, and lead captive.

Yours, &c.

FROM THE VIRGINIA GAZETTE.

If the Printers in Richmond, and other places within the State of Virginia, should consider the following worthy of publication, they will confer a favour on the Author if they will give the same a place in their several papers when convenient.

SERIOUS ADDRESS TO THE FARMERS AND PLANTERS OF VIRGINIA.

Brethren and Fellow-Citizens,

I have lately seen a publication in one of the Richmond papers under the signature of a Farmer, recommending to the Citizens of Virginia to direct the calling a convention to form a new constitution.—I gave it but a cursory reading, being satisfied in my own mind it could not be the production of a real Farmer, but rather suppose it to be the production of some high flaming democrat or speculative genius, who has assumed the title of a Farmer, and probably one who does not possess a single acre of soil, for I can scarcely believe there is a Farmer or Planter in Virginia who would be so clamorous against the present constitution; however if there are any such discontented beings that are Farmers, I flatter myself there are at least a majority of us of very different sentiments.—Consider my brethren twenty years have elapsed since the adoption of the present constitution; have any of us had real cause to complain of its operation; have we not been satisfied it has sufficiently secured our rights, liberties, lives and property; have not our laws been such as to promote equal and impartial justice; and have we not lived free from oppression; in short, have we not lived as happy as we can possibly expect to be under any other form of government.—It is said there are defects in the present constitution; admitting it to be the case, from what human production may we not expect defects; is it not therefore safer to remain as we are rather than risk a reform which probably may be more defective; for I will venture to pronounce we have not at present more enlightened statesmen than the formers of that constitution, and am certain none more virtuous. Can we therefore expect a better constitution; it is certain we can never expect one pleasing to every person, consequently we may always expect to hear of complaints and clamorous aspersions against any constitution that can be devised, consequently one revolution will follow another, and revolution after revolution, till at length there will be a total annihilation of all government; revolutions are generally attended with great expence and frequently with confusion and discontent; consider who it is that generally bear the burthen of public expences in Virginia; is it not the farmers and planters, are there any among us, my brethren, that are desirous of an accumulation of public expences and are there any willing to give up a certainty for an uncertainty.

I hope better principles pervades the minds of my numerous brethren, and that they will totally disregard all clamorous publications against the present constitution and form of Goverment, and let us all like good Citizens strictly conform to the duties enjoined upon us by the same—Let us also use our best endeavours to promote agriculture and commerce, and all useful arts and sciences; above all, let us in a particular manner endeavour to promote virtue and discourage vice, and immorality, and we cannot fail being happy under the present existing form of government.

The foregoing sentiments are humbly submitted to the serious consideration of all the Farmers and Planters in the State of Virginia, being the real sentiments of a native, a sincere republican, and

A REAL FARMER.

James City, August 27, 1796.

POPULAR SOCIETIES.

The following remarks were made by a Committee of the French National Legislature, who reported a law against POPULAR SOCIETIES, which received the sanction of the Councils in March last:

"The rapid progress of the pantheon, said the Chairman, ought to make you acquainted with the career of those societies. People meet at first with the purest intentions, to support the constitution, to revive patriotism, to lend assistance to the government, to preach obedience to the law. But this cool and collected career does not accord with the ambitious pretensions of leaders; places and wealth are sought; men become furious at not having been elected into government; government is railed against; they are accused of Chouannerie, and of persecuting the real patriots; it is necessary to destroy the government. The lightening is not quicker than the success of a seditious orator, who, skilled in stiring the passions of the multitude, can at will captivate their benevolence, exasperate them by a picture of ills which he has endured, and stimulate them against those persons whom he accuses as the authors. The Athenians had just received from Solon a republican constitution. PISISTRATUS preached up the division of lands; he gave them fetters, and that light, through courageous people, who had braved all Asia, were sujected to the yoke of thirty tyrants.

"After the death of Charles I. England was disposed to receive a Republican Government, but factions arose and disputed the empire. The temples and churches, transformed into clubs, became so many tribunes, where vehement orators delivered, some, sentiments of royalty, others of anarchy a few preached the principles of liberty.

"In the midst of these different parties, Cromwell let fall his mask; and under the title of protector took the place of that tyrant whom he had just punished.

"At his death, the members of the long parliament, who had been the instruments of CROMWELL'S elevation, were called the only patriots, the only men worthy of forming the national representation; and those men who seemed to be attached to the republic only the better to conceal their real attachment to royal tyranny, re-established the throne, and the people suffered themselves to be placed again under the yoke of monarchy.

"Thus the British cabinet finds in the history of its country, useful lessons to hurt us; and it would be serving the English government in a wonderful manner, if we suffered popular societies to exist.

"You cannot limit the liberty of the press without giving to the government a censorial authority, which would be adverse to all principles. But if you permit the liberty of the clubs, you will destroy the order that is established.

"The elements of clubs are in their nature destructive. If the government preserves liberty, the clubs destroy it. If the government tends to slavery, it will make use of the clubs as an instrument. Thus the existence of clubs is the only hope of the royalists.

"Representatives, either annihilate the clubs, or the clubs will annihilate the republic.

"Citizens, let our hearts burn with hatred against royalty, and against jacobinism: let us in future, like the Directory, recognize only two classes of men—those who are for the constitution, and those who are against it."

FROM LATE LONDON PAPERS.

What with disputes about Prizes taken on the High Seas, and disputes between Men and their Wives, business goes on swimmingly at Doctor's Commons. The increase in the article, verifies the old Proverb, "When a couple are newly married, the first month is honey-moon, or snick-snack; the second, hither and thither; the third thwick thwack; and the fourth, the Devil take them that brought you and me together.

Patents.—Among all the Patents in this country, nothing has more curiosity than a Sign board, in the neighbourhood of Hackney, on which a Gentleman proclaims that he deals in Patent Vegetables!

A ridiculous circumstance lately happened in St. James's street. As Mrs. Burton was crossing, she stooped under the head of a coach horse, the hungry animal seized her Straw Bonnet, which he eat, before it could be rescued from his jaws.

Mrs. Piozzi sojourns at a rural cottage in the beautiful Vale of Cluydd, where she has just finished a Poem, entitled, "The Sports of the Goats."

A certain Gentleman at his marriage thought he had a Lamb—but as Mungo says, "adod he has got a Tartar!", LITERARY.—PARIS.

A new play entitled, L'Interieur les comites Revolutionaries, (the Interior of the Revolutionory Committees) was given on the 16th instant at the Theatre de la Cite, and received with the most enthusiastic bursts of applause.

Four large volumes in 8vo. will shortly be published, which contain the crimes committed under the four different Legislatures, and especially under the reign of the Convention.

CRIM. CON.

No case of Adultry has been tried in America since the establishment of that Republic!!

At Winchester assizes a cause came on last week, at the Nisi Prius Court, Admiral SirHyde Parker vs Major Bailey, for crim. con. Damages for Plaintiff 3000l.

A LITERARY CHARACTER.

During the popularity of John Wilkes, a poor fellow came to the Committee of Finance to demand pay for his literary services. His employment was to chalk, "Wilkes and Liberty" on the walls of the city.

TAX ON BREECHES.

A curious report is circulating, that the Minister means, on the meeting of Parliament to move "that a licence, value two guineas be taken out annually by every person wearing breeches" If this be true, we strongly recommend the Board of Agriculture to take into their most serious consideration "the culture of the "Fig Tree."

ANTIQUITIES.

Letters from Florence mention a very great discovery in a place where it was least expected. Near the town of Peperno, formerly called Perusium, some artists made a search, and found some inscriptions, and some fine pieces of sculpture.

The first is a statue of a man sitting, twice as large as life. It is the statue of Tiberius Cæsar, sculptured as Jupiter: It is of great value, inasmuch as it is unique, and because the statues which we have of Tiberius are imperfect. It is of that species of very fine marble which is called Cupollo Statuaire.

The remains of a statue of Claudius, the head and breast in perfect preservation: a naked statue of one of the Cæsars, and a woman, without heads.

Several fine heads, particularly one of Aurelius; a head of Jupiter; of the youngest Faustina; of a woman supposed to be Octavia, the wife of Nero, were also discovered.

All these statues and several inscri-tions prove, that the place where they were found was the forum of the ancient Pivernum, where the ſtatues of the Cæſars had been erected. New diſcoveries are expected to be made in the ſame place.

CAPTAIN BARNEY.

Extract of a lettrr from Capt. Joſhua Barney, dated at Sea, off Bermuda, on board the Frigate Harmony, 3d September, 1796, to his Friend in Baltimore.

"Five days ago I expected to have been with you at Baltimore. As I arrived in ſight of the light houſe on Cape-Henry, about 12 at night, I ſaw ſix ſail of ſhips, which I immediately ſuſpected to be Britiſh; my diviſion, conſiſting of two Frigates, and an armed Tranſport, not being ſufficiently ſtrong to attack them, I inſtantly ſtood to the eaſtward; the enemy not obſerving my movement, at day-light I obſerved a frigate aſtern of us, who made ſeveral ſignals. I gave her chaſe, and ſhe ran from me; about an hour afterwards; ſhe was joined by five others, among them two ſhips of the line. I then thought it prudent to take care of myſelf and diviſion, accordingly ſtood to the eaſtward, the enemy gained on us very faſt, having got the breeze, I was obliged to abandon the armed tranſport, who did not ſail well; ſhe was taken by the enemy, about 5 o'clock. They continued to chaſe me and my other frigate all the evening and night. Next morning I found myſelf near one of the enemy's frigates, and offered her battle, which ſhe politely refuſed. I at the ſame time obſerved another of their ſhips on our lee quarter, which I took for a ſhip of the line, in conſequence I again made ſail, and they continued to chaſe us all the ſecond day, but without effect, as we out ſailed them." [Bal. Tel.]

Extract of a letter from an officer on board commodore Barney's ſhip, dated at ſea, Sept. 2.

"Steering for the Cheſapeake, and having hove to at midnight, in ſight of the of Cape Henry, we diſcovered at a ſmall diſtance five large veſſels, which appeared to be formed in a line and which appeared to us rather ſuſpicious. We made ſail to the eaſtward, and at day light we ſaw aſtern of us. one ſingle frigate, which we chaſed—but directly we diſcovered five other veſſels which were ſteering for us, and to which the frigate that we were chaſing made repeated ſignals—ſeeing ſuch a ſuperior force, we were obliged to abandon the tranſport Elizabeth, that ſailed very bad—we were chaſed all day, and we ſaw her taken poſſeſſion of at at 5 o'clock P. M.. They continued to chace us during 24 hours, but our ſailing ſo well ſaved us. One Engliſh frigate was enabled to keep way with us, but ſhe prudently did not ſeem to wiſh hazarding coming along ſide of either of us, and ſhe has to thank the two ſhips of the line who were with her, for her ſafety—we have loſt a veſſel not much to be regretted." Phila. Paper.

Among the many circumſtances which ſet the American character in an honorable point of light, no one is calculated to ſhed more luſtre than the warm ſolicitude for a general peace. While the uproar of war reſounds through Europe, and ſpreads alarm and deſolation over a large portion of the earth, we remain in tranquility, and riſe on the general ruin. Our produce is elevated to an unprecedented height, and our enterprize finds a lucrative field both at home and abroad. Were intereſt alone to determine our motives, we would encourage rather than repreſs the war; we would pray for its extenſion and deprecate its termination.

But let the truth be told. The American people fervently wiſh the war over. Their humanity and love of juſtice triumph over pecuniary conſiderations. There exiſts not a doubt that nine out of ten of our citizens, were the queſtion ſubmitted to them, would put a period to the war.

Contemplate the almoſt unvarying hoſtility of one nation to another in paſt as well as preſent times, view the exultation which has marked the riſe of one people on the ruin or miſerable depreſſion of another, and ſay, Americans, whether you do not feel a triumph of virtue in your own breaſts, on exerciſing as high a ſhare of philanthropy as conſiſts with your own welfare.

The celebrated chapel of Loretto was ſaid to have been brought to its preſent ſituation by angels. It ſeems, however, not to have become ſtationary, and the Prieſts, to whom the angels have long ſince committed the entire guardianſhip of the chapel, in conſequence of the rapidity of the French conqueſts, have taken the precaution to remove all the rich ſhrines, &c. by mere ordinary means of conveyance.

PHILADELPHIA, SEPT. 13.

By the brig Betſey, from Liſbon, letters have been received in this city from Algiers, dated June 16, from one of which the following is an extract. "The plague ſtill rages here, Nicholas Hartford, Abraham Simmonds, and Joſeph Keith, have died of it; Benjamin Lunt and John Thomas are in the hoſpitals, among others of our unfortunate fellow-citizens—of whom ninety remain ſtill here in captivity."

FROM THE AURORA.

☞ Whereas it has been falſely aſſerted in the Aurora, that I had ſuffered the laſh for certain miſdemeanours, I beg leave through the ſame channel, to deny the aſſertion and to invite thoſe who may ſtill be tempted to place confidence in the calumnies of my enemies to favor me with a viſit at any time between 9 in the morning and 1 in the afternoon, or from 3 to 6 in the evening, when I ſhall be able to afford them ocular demonſtration that the charge is unfounded, and to prove Mr. Bache's correſpondent a liar.

NEW-YORK, SEPT. 10.

We are authoriſed to inform the public, that the two commiſſioners for ſettling the true St. Croix river, as the boundary line between the United States and the Britiſh territories, have choſen Egbert Benſon, Eſquire, one of the judges of the ſupreme court in this State, to be the third commiſſioner, and have diſpatched a veſſel to this port to conduct him to St. Andrew's, where they are to convene for the accompliſhment of the buſineſs. The expreſs has arrived here; judge Benſon is abſent in a northern county, and advices are forwarded to him. Whether he will accept or not we cannot inform the public.

Capt Tallman of the brig Commerce, arrived this morning from Cadiz which place he left 29th July. By a gentleman, paſſenger in the above brig, we are informed that ſucceſs ſtill attends the French army in Italy. Mantua Placentia, and ſome other fortreſſes had fallen into their hands. He confirms the arrival of the French at Leghorn, but ſays that the Engliſh merchants there had conveyed moſt of their perſonal property to Venice and Corſica, and their immovable property they had aſſigned over to merchants in Leghorn, that it might appear to be Tuſcan property.

A Spaniſh fleet of 25 ſail of the line lay equipped for ſea at Cadiz. The French fleet was alſo ready. They had their ſails bent, and were getting fowls and other proviſions on board, but our informant remarks "they would eat as well in Cadiz harbour as out at ſea."

Admiral Codova, captain general of the Spaniſh navy, died lately at Cadiz.

By ſome ſtrange impulſe forc'd againſt his will,
The fatal dart had loſt its power to kill.
The tuneful Fair, his terrors had defy'd,
With rapture ſtruck, inſtead of her had died.

Lands for Sale.

BY virtue of a power of Attorney, which is of record in Prince William county, from Mrs. Catharine Douglaſs of Scotland, and her daughters; the ſubſcriber will ſell that valuable and very productive FARM on Cedar Run in the ſaid county, which is conveyed by Robert Brent, deceaſed, and Ann his wife, to the executors of James Douglaſs for the purpoſe in his will mentioned being part of the well known Brenton Tract.

It contains about 850 acres of which a ſmall part is under leaſe, during the life of an old lady. The whole of the farm is incloſed and divided into 8 fields, on one of which will be ſown this ſeaſon 200 buſhels of wheat of the firſt quality. A ſmall part only of this land remains in woods; but if the purchaſer or purchoſers ſhall chooſe, along with this farm will be ſold 150 acres near it, 110 of which are ſuppoſed to be heavily covered with timber, valuable for building as well as fencing, both theſe tracts are within 14 miles miles of Dumfries, 18 from Occoquan mills, and 35 from Alexandria.

If it be the choice of the purchaſer, he may, with this farm buy the ſlaves (which are valuable,) the ſtock and all the farming utenſils.

The tract of land on Aquia creek, on which Mrs. Douglaſs formerly did live, containing about 250 acres, and which has been conveyed to the executors of Mr. Douglaſs in the manner above mentioned, is alſo for ſale, by virtue of the ſaid power of attorney. On this land is a valuable body of Free-ſtone, and the navigation is as good as any on the creek—there are two tenements on it but no leaſe. It is diſtant from Fredericksburg, about 13 miles; from Dumfries, 12; and is below the quarries belonging to the Public.

Purchaſers upon paying down, at Chriſtmas next, one third of the purchaſe money, may then have poſſeſſion; and annual inſtalments for the remainder, at two, (or if a very favorable price be offered) at three payments.

Robert Ferguſon & others,
Robert Carter and Hebe, his wife, George Grayſon, Robert Grayſon, & Alfred Grayſons and others, heirs of William Smallwood, of Charles County, late deceaſed. } In Chancery, Auguſt 11th, 1796.

THE object of the complainant's bill is to obtain a decree for the ſale of the real Eſtate of William Smallwood, late of Charles County, deceaſed, or ſo much thereof, as is neceſſary for the payment of the debts of the deceaſed. And it appearing to the Chancellor as ſtated in the bill, that Robert Carter, and Hebe his wife, Robert Grayſon, Alfred Grayſon, and George Grayſon are reſpectively reſidents of the Commonwealth of Virginia, and without the proceſs of this Court, and that the ſaid Hebe, George, Robert, and Alfred, infants and others are intereſted in the ſaidr ea Eſtate, which deſcended to them as heirs at law of the deceaſed. It is thereupon adjudged and ordered, that the complainants cauſe a copy of this order to be publiſhed at leaſt three weeks ſucceſſively in the News papers of Edwards and Co. of Baltimore Town, and in ſome one of the Alexandria news papers, before the firſt day of October next, to the intent, that the guardian or guardians of the ſaid defendants, or that ſuch of the defendants as are of free age may have notice of their (the ſaid complainants) application to this court, and may be warned to appear here on or before the 1ſt Tueſday in November next, to ſhew cauſe, if any ther be, wherefore a decree ſhould not be paſſed as prayed by the bill.

Portobacco, Auguſt 29, 1796.

A VERY VALUABLE MERCHANT MILL, A DISTILLERY AND BREWERY, AND SUN-DRY STONE QUARRIES TO BE LET.

I WILL rent my Merchant Mill at the Little Falls of Potowmac, for any term, not leſs than ſeven, or more than eleven years, from the firſt day of September next. The Mill houſe is 42 by 40 feet, three ſtories high, built with ſtone, and has in it 3 pair of French burr ſtons, two overſhot 18 feet water wheels, and Evans's machinery complete, with every other thing proper and neceſſary for carrying on the buſineſs with diſpatch, and at as little expence as poſſible, all in good order.—From the mill to my landing on the Potomac river, (where crafts of any burthen may deliver grain, and take in flour) it is about 40 yards, and from thence by water to George-Town and the City of Waſhington, about three miles, and to Alexandria about 11 miles. This ſituation aided by a ſufficient capital, will command the produce of a very extenſive back country, where large quantities of wheat and other grain is annually made, the diſtance to it being from 8 to 10 miles leſs, than to any market town upon the navigation of the Potowmack. There are on the premiſſes a large ſtone Cooper's ſhop, a ſtone granery and a commodious Miller's houſe. At the landing aforeſaid a bridge is now building over the Potomac, which is in great forwardneſs and probably will be finiſhed the enſuing Fall.

There are alſo on the premiſes a Brewery and Diſtillery built with ſtone, in them are three ſtills, two coppers or boilers, with every neceſſary article, all new, and in good order, and ſufficiently large to carry on the Brewery and Diſtillery, upon a very extenſive plan. This property I will rent for the ſame term of years.

Upon my lands adjoining the premiſes, and along the banks of the river, where craft may load with eaſe and diſpatch, is an immenſe quantity of building and foundation ſtones, four quarries are now open, and as many more may be opened with eaſe, the ſtone taken from theſe quarries is better, and has the preference at this market, to any other ſtone brought to it. I will rent theſe quarries ſeperately or together as may beſt ſuit.

Upon the top of the hill, and about 200 yards from the Mill is a ſtone Dwelling houſe, large enough for the accommodation of a family, alſo, a kitchen, Dairy, ſmoke houſe, &c. and a garden incloſed, and in cultivation, the ſoil of which is equal in goodneſs to any in this ſtate. I will alſo rent this property.

Adjoining to the Brewery and Diſtillery is a Smith's ſhop in which is a complete ſet of Blackſmith's tools, which I will alſo rent, and if agreeable I will hire to the tenant two negro blackſmiths, one of them is a complete workman.

If I rent out the ſtone quarries, I will ſell three crafts which were built for the purpoſe of carrying ſtone. They will altogether bring upwards of 90 perch. Immediate poſſeſſion will be given, for terms apply to the ſubſcriber in this town.

The Mill, Brewery and Diſtillery with their appurtenances will be delivered to the tenant or tenants in good repair, and muſt be ſo returned, at the expiration of the leaſe or leaſes.

Three hundred and eighty acres of land upon a credit of twelve months, lying about a mile above Leeds town, upon Rappahannock, River, on Tueſday 20th day of September next. The ſoil is very fertile, particularly for the production of Indian Corn, and profitable crops of ſmall grain have been made upon it; very extenſive marſhes are near, and the place itſelf affords ſuch improveable meadow ground that the proprietors may keep very large ſtock of all kind. There is on this plantation a good dwelling houſe with four rooms on the lower floor and two above, and out houſes, and it abounds with fine ſprings. An accurate ſurvey will be ſhewn at the ſale, and it will be required that the purchaſers ſhall execute bonds for ſix equal ſums payable to each of the diſtributors or their guardians who are entitled to the money ariſing from the ſales.
